

GC Power Lines to Go Under Ground

Illinois Power Co. to Relocate Systems in Cities, Subdivisions

A two-part modernization and improvement program, one of which provides for moving electrical distribution systems underground in downtown Granite City, was announced Tuesday by the Illinois Power Co.

The second phase of the program, which will become effective as soon as the Illinois Commerce Commission acts on rules changes, call for underground installation of future electric service to subdivisions.

"I can't say when the engineering study will start, or how much the program will cost in this particular area," Mathias said, adding, however, that "it will be no small amount."

Work on this phase will "proceed over a period of years as manpower and materials become available."

Factors in determining the priority of cities in which the relocation work will be carried out will include the conditions which presently exist, electrical load densities in the cities, and whether adequate service and safety operations can be maintained if expansions were to continue on the overhead systems, Mathias explained.

Announcement of the downtown relocation program, which will entail no cost to the city or taxpayers, was made concurrently with disclosure of the underground location of electrical cables in subdivisions, an eventual cost of $2 million dollars.

Included in this long-range plan are free underground distribution systems for new subdivisions and free extension of three-phase service to farm customers.

Mathias said the company has filed applications for rule changes with the ICC at Springfield, and that the new policy of placing all future electrical distribution systems underground in subdivisions will go into effect.

Nature Setting Suggested For Old Post Office Site

Granite City Park Board commissioners, and representatives of the business and civic groups previewed Monday evening three preliminary sketches of planning ideas for a park in the area now occupied by the old post office building on Niedringhaus avenue.

The building is slated for demolition as soon as clear title is obtained from the U.S. General Services Administration in Chicago. Clearance is expected early next month, and a call for salvage bids will then be issued.

Preliminary estimates indicate that cost of demolishing the building will be within the amount of funds contributed by local business and individuals, some of them owners of property surrounding the triangular block, bounded by Niedringhaus avenue, 20th street and Delmar avenue. Formal acceptance and a check for $22,850 for the property was sent to the GSA office on Dec. 20, after the park district's application had been approved. The previous week. A total of $29,000 was raised for the dismantling project and purchase, with any excess in funds to be refunded to donors on a proportional basis. Purchase price was 50% of the $45,700 appraised value.

Plans by Graduate Students
The drawings, prepared by graduate students at Southern Illinois University's Carbondale campus, were described and displayed by Dr. Loren Taylor, SIU department chairman of recreation and outdoor education, during a brief meeting in the park office.

All three plans suggested using

TWO OF THREE BULLET HOLES shot in the house trailer of Arthur Theis, 2102 Alexander street, a foreman at Union Starch & Refining Co. His son, Howard, 4, points to one hole and the arrow indicates a second which struck the divan on which Theis was asleep at the time. His feet were at the danger end of the divan.

Negotiations to be Resumed Tuesday

Gunfire Hits Homes of 3 Starch Supervisors

The homes of three supervisory employees of the Union Starch & Refining Co. were blasted by shotgun and pistol fire Tuesday night in a renewal of violence that has marked the seven-months strike on several occasions. The shootings were followed Wednesday by an announcement that a negotiating session—the first since Dec. 15—has been scheduled by U.S. Conciliators in St. Louis at 10 a.m. next Tuesday.

Three bullets from a pistol fired at the trailer home of Arthur Theis, 2102 Alexander street, narrowly missed striking Theis, his wife, Sylvia, and a six-year-old daughter, Susan, who was asleep on a bed where the mattress was pierced by a slug. Two of the three bullets struck the back of a divan, passing over Theis, who was lying down, by a matter of inches. One of the slugs lodged in the divan. Another pierced the couch, struck a sewing machine and knocked out Mrs. Theis and was imbedded in several coats hanging in the kitchen. The other slug pierced the divan and struck the side of the mattress on which the child was sleeping. This is the machine set up foreman at Union Starch Co.

Two Other Attacks
The other attacks, both by shotgun, were made on the homes of Ronald Parker at 82 Shirlin drive, Arlington Heights, and Russell Stump, 810 St. Louis street, Edwardsville. Stump is director of engineering and Parker is a millhouse foreman at Union Starch Co.

In all three instances the shots were fired from autos. Although the three homes were in scattered locations—one in Granite City, one in the county and one in Edwardsville—the attacks occurred within the space of little more than half an hour. Theis' home was hit first at 8:50 p.m. The attack on Parker's home was fixed at 9:10 p.m., and the one on Stump's home at 9:24 p.m.

The Parker and Stump homes, the shotgun blasts were fired through picture windows where most of the pellets were fired by drawn drapes. This indicated the assailants had been unable to see in the windows. Stump told the Press-Record that his wife was sitting only a few feet from the window when the glass shattered from the shotgun charge. Pellets were imbedded in the drapes, but a couple came into the living room, Stump said.

County deputies said the blast also knocked out a picture window at the Parker home where the assailant was carried out.

In another auto fire at 8:10 p.m. Tuesday, four men burned to death in the car of Harold Davis at 1890 Spruce street. Damage was estimated at $200.

Amsted Sales Set Record; Earnings are 2nd Highest

Despite certain unfavorable non-recurring factors in the quarter ended Dec. 31, Amsted Industries' sales were the highest and earnings were the second highest for any first fiscal quarter in the company's history.

This was announced Tuesday by Joseph B. Lanterman, president, at the company's annual stockholders' meeting in Chicago.

Amsted reported net income of $2,597,000, equal to 94 cents per share, on sales of $45,107,000 in the quarter ended Dec. 31. This compares with net income of $3,072,000, equal to $1.11 per share, on sales of $45,060,000 in the same period a year ago.

At the board of directors' meeting Tuesday a dividend of 50 cents per share was declared payable March 15 to stockholders of record as of the close of business on February 21, 1966.

Sales of railroad products in the quarter just ended were above the levels of the first quarter of the 1965 fiscal year.

The Amsted president told shareholders that earnings in the quarter ended Dec. 31 were expected to be about the same as for the Dec. 31 quarter even though the usual adverse seasonal effects on the company's pine operations will be reflected in that period.

He added, "The 1966 fiscal year could be another record breaking year for the company."

Amsted's expenditures for plant and equipment amounted to $1,100,000 in the first three months of the fiscal year.

No Need to Boost State Sales Tax, Treasurer Says

State Treasurer William J. Scott told the Illinois Budgetary Commission this week that there was no need to increase the state's sales tax rate at this time.

Scott based his statement on a 30-month comparative study he did for the Budgetary Commission which showed that there was more money in the general revenue fund than the common school fund now than there was at this time last year.

"As of the end of last month, we had $4,771,824 more in general revenue account (00) than we had a year ago, and $4,694,293 more in the common school sub-account than last year," Scott said.

"After subtracting all outstanding warrants as of Dec. 31, 1965, we had a total surplus in all the general revenue funds, including common school and welfare, of almost $5 million dollars," Scott said.

"In addition, sales tax collections are running at record levels and should continue to do so for the next year," Scott said. "Post-Christmas department store sales were up a record 19% over last year, following a Christmas buying spree that saw department store sales increase 10% over the previous year. Automobile sales are up 11% in the first ten days of January, and from all reports, 1966 will be the biggest sales year in the history of the automobile industry."

The record sales figures are important, Scott said, since the bulk of the general revenue income is from the State sales tax. Scott's studies show that the road fund had a surplus of $24,500,000 as of the end of December, compared to $29,289,294 a year ago, or a drop of more than four-and-a-half million dollars. Money for the road fund comes from the State's gasoline tax, which is earmarked for road purposes only.

Telephone Threat Made
Mrs. Alberta Ethington, 2037 Bryan avenue, reported at 8:45 p.m. Tuesday that she had received a threatening telephone call. Two patrol cars were ordered to check the house periodically.

Smithton Woman Fined $50
Mrs. Susanne Wyckoff, Smithton, was fined $50 plus $10 costs Tuesday in magistrate's court on a charge of driving while under suspension. The charge was filed Dec. 23.

EOC Committees Named For Medicare, Job Corps

Two committees were appointed Monday evening by James M. Bailey, president of the Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission, to set up programs for both young and senior citizens.

Named to represent the Madison county EOC in a joint survey and registration program with St. Clair county anti-poverty forces, to contact persons eligible for participation in the Medicare program, were Hugh R. Hairston, Madison, commission vice-president, Mrs. Marvin Kozinek, Collinsville and Mrs. Howard K. Parker, Alton.

As the second major project for the county commission, Bailey recommended immediate planning for a summer Neighborhood Youth Corps to provide jobs for young people 16 to 21 years of age.

Appointed as co-chairmen of the Job Corps committee were James Reidebarger of Venice, director of family court service in Madison county, and Charles Mathews, professor and director for the study of crime, delinquency and correction at Southern Illinois University-Southeastern Campus.

Registration Program
A crash registration program for elderly persons qualifying for "Medicare" will be implemented Feb. 1, Bailey said. Officials of the two county commissions agreed last week to submit a joint application for $29,210 in federal funds to finance the project.

Combining the two counties was proposed as the survey must be completed prior to March 31, and the Madison EOC has yet to submit its original project application for $72,184 to start general anti-poverty surveys on a county-wide basis. The latter application is expected to be filed with the regional Office of Economic Opportunity in Chicago this week, it was learned.

Hairston said earlier this week that survey headquarters for the Quad-Cities and adjacent towns will be located in the Venice city hall. He added that applications currently are being accepted for the position as director of the survey program.

Working with other necessary qualifications, Hairston said, the commission prefers to hire an older man for the director's job, as well as seeking able senior citizens as survey takers.

He stressed the importance of contacting and registering those eligible under the Medicare Act before the March deadline, adding "after that date those persons not registered will have to wait for almost two years in order to receive benefits available through the Medicare program."

Primary purpose of the Neighborhood Youth Corps committee, Hairston said, will be to gather all possible information on the program from other areas, to contact agencies and non-profit organizations in Madison county for job openings and to recruit young people to fill them.

Youth Corps members—from the ranks of the impoverished—would be paid $1.50 per hour and would work a 40-hour week. The project is expected to run 12 weeks through the summer and is tentatively slated to begin June 1, Hairston said.

Those working with Job Corps youths would encourage them to return to school in the fall in the case of dropout students, he explained. If the project proves successful, a year-round program may be developed, he said.

In other action Monday evening, the commission elected to table a proposed 1966 Head Start project budget of $159,317, until its next meeting Feb. 21, when Wilbur R. L. Trimpe, Madison county superintendent of schools, or a member of his staff is expected to explain the budget and program.

Parked Car Damaged

A parked car owned by Robert M. Longley of 2529 Ivy lane was damaged at 12th street and Madison avenue, at 5:55 p.m. Tuesday when an auto driven by Eddie Simmons of 804 Jackson street, Madison, backed into it as he was leaving the adjoining parking space. Simmons reported there was no damage to his car. Longley's car was damaged in the left rear fender.

Nike Base Operations Explained to Rotarians

Capt. Richard Truxill, commanding officer of the Nike-Hercules missile battery at Marine, Ill., described to Granite City Rotarians Tuesday, the peacetime mission of his unit, one of four missile batteries in the air defense network surrounding the Illinois-Missouri metropolitan area.

Relating details of the weekly rotation system for missile base personnel, Capt. Truxill said his command is divided into three separate segments, with one group on a ready-alert "hot" basis, at all times. A second unit is kept on a standby status, the officer said, while a third is held in reserve.

At the present time, he continued, his battery is under-manned due to many of the highly-trained technicians having been transferred to bases overseas. He reassured his listeners by saying that should the situation necessitate, full strength could be achieved quickly.

Capt. Truxill commands Battery A, part of the First Missile Battalion at the 62nd Air Artillery. His unit holds the most outstanding record in range firing competition against other continental United States missile units. He told Rotarians that the Nike-Hercules can be placed in operation within a 15-minute warning period.

Following his talk, the officer showed a film, describing the general purpose and program of the Nike-Hercules missile sites and their relationship to nearby communities which they protect.

Glenn Abenroth, club vice-president, was in charge of the business session in the absence of club president, William Roederbeke, who was reported recovering from pneumonia at St. Francis Hospital, St. Louis.

MORE ABOUT

Gunfire Hits

they picked up pellets inside the house.

This said it was "pure luck" no one was wounded or killed by the pistol slugs which apparently were of .38 caliber.

Bullets Strike Divan

"It's a good thing I wasn't sitting up on the couch," Thomas related. "One of the bullets hit one end of the couch, one hit the other end and another one struck about in the center."

But I was lying down at the time and I was lucky, he remarked. He said the bullet which was imbedded in the coats in the kitchen was found and turned over to police.

In all three cases, neighbors witnessed autos parked in front of the homes, or speeding away immediately after the shooting.

Sheriff Fraundorf, who said he sent out radio calls to all police departments between Edwardsville and Belleville immediately after first reports of the shootings, reported that Mrs. John Koch, a neighbor to the Parkers, reported the shooting even before Mrs. Parker called his office. The Parker home is in county territory.

Fraundorf said that Mrs. Koch told his office that she had gone to the front door just as she heard the shots and saw a light gray station wagon speed away, with two men in the front seat.

According to Granite City police, the shots fired at the Thies trailer came from an old model, gray auto that was reported parked in front of Thies' home a few minutes before the shooting.

Fired From Car

Stumpie told police that neighbors had seen an auto parked in front of his home at the time the shot was fired. It too, sped away immediately after the shooting.

Officer Sheriff Steve Kuzmierz reported that during the night, after the shootings, he was cruising along East 23rd street when he saw a light-colored car used in the shootings passed him at a high rate of speed and later was spotted at two other intersections.

Kuzmierz said the license number was checked, disclosing the car had been issued to a man identified as a striking Union Star employee. Police were reported investigating the car owner today.

Third Time For This

It was the third time that Thies' home has been attacked, and the second time the Parker and Stumpe homes have been damaged. In previous attacks their homes were damaged by bricks and bullets hurled through windows and around the sides of their homes.

Thomas Austin, president of striking Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union, Local 7-663, said he knew nothing of the attacks. "I have no idea who might have been responsible for the shootings," he said.

A company spokesman described the assaults today as a "deplorable situation" which he said is influencing Union Star employees "to move out of Granite City."

He said that "two of our supervisory employees already have made such moves to new addresses which they are not making known to prevent a recurrence of such attacks."

Driver's License Lost

Mrs. Edna Berry, 2123 Lee avenue, reported Tuesday that she lost her driver's license at an unknown location.

City Grows by 37 Acres— This Time to the West

Granite City grew by another 37 acres Monday night, and prospects are for further growth in the next few weeks.

This time the growth was to the west as the city annexed the areas of Prather junior high and Logan elementary schools that are located along West 25th street. Only the front campuses and portions of the buildings were in the city limits.

The request for annexation was made by the school board in a letter submitted by Monroe Worthen, president. An ordinance carrying out the annexation was approved unanimously.

Mayor Partney pointed out that police and fire protection is the main objective for the annexation, since any happenings at the rear of the buildings would be outside the city limits. Police protection would fall to the sheriff's office.

Future Growth Eastward

Placed on first reading were two ordinances for growth to the north and east at Ponton Plaza. Requested are the annexation of 2.3 acres in the vicinity and north of the apartments at the plaza and for 25 acres to the east—extending the city boundary to the Altan & Southern Railroad tracks. Leo Wolf, developer, is the petitioner.

Approved by the council was a change from R-2 residential zoning to C-2 commercial classification for a lot on Pershing avenue to be used for expansion of Koryak's market.

Council members decided to give further study to the City Plan Commission's recommendation for changes in controls on mobile homes, and referred to the Plan Commission a request by James C. Green for rezoning three lots on the east side of the 2500 block of Washington avenue to R-5 for development of an eight-family apartment building.

An ordinance is to be prepared for rezoning 201 Johnson road from R-1 to C-1 for construction of a building to house offices for four doctors and for ice cream parlor. The property is to be developed by Valencia.

No 'Pink Buddahs' For All-America City

By Mike Gremaud
Press-Record Sports Editor

Winter is here. Or so the weatherman tells us. But Quad-Cityans have not yet seen hide nor hair of thick ice, and the other symbols of winter. But it is rapidly approaching.

The closest thing to winter to arrive on the scene, has been frosted windshields on cars in the early morning hours, and a few snow flurries.

But, by this time next year (1967), there will be one place where the weatherman can not stick his nose in too far and predict winter. That place is the Granite City Park District's ice rink and recreation center.

When the thermometer dips towards the freezing mark, there will be skating and more skating available for Granite City residents.

Many things could be planned for future recreation hours in this new winter sports center.

For instance, there could be open skating for youngsters and adults alike. There could be hockey leagues for the boys in the community, set up like the flag football and baseball programs sponsored by the park district.

Last, but not least, with some enticing, there could be exhibition or league hockey games involving the St. Louis Blues professional hockey team.

Looking even farther in the future, there could be the development of the Southern Illinois University-Southwestern Campus, and maybe an inter-collegiate hockey team using the Granite City rink for home games.

Though, however, is in the far future category.

In talking with the public relations director of the St. Louis Blues, Mr. Weaver, a good indication was given about the future of the ice rink in Granite City.

Weaver would like to bring some of the members of the Blues hockey team to Granite City to conduct clinics for the rules and skills of ice hockey, and generally develop an interest in the sport.

Already this year, Harold Brown and his staff at the park district office have planned a trip to see the Blues play Memphis in a Central Ice Hockey league game.

Many more ideas are closer to being realities with the ice rink and recreation center.

The city of Granite City will become even more active during the cold, cold winter months with activities never before thought of. The youngsters will have added recreations to develop bodies and minds.

Adults will have more spare-time recreation available, and Granite City will further advance its reputation as a truly All-America City.

The sky's the limit, and new hopes await every thought.

The ice rink and recreation center is something to be enjoyed by all, some places to go and have good old-fashioned family fun.

There is never to be another major sports project with such emphasis as the ice rink and recreation center in Granite City, and the whole population of Granite City and surrounding communities will achieve acclaim.

But even more gratifying to all concerned, will be the beautiful physical and mental growth of today's youth.

No white elephant, no bill of goods, and no pink buddahs.

The ice rink and recreation center will be here to stay. Enjoy and support it, one and all.

MORE ABOUT GC Power

with expiration of the usual 30-day waiting period on ICC permits.

Seek Waiting Period
He said that realtors and developers in the area will be contacted and requested to wait out the 30-day period before the company is required to go ahead with any further electrical installations.

Mathias said this program also will entail a stepping up of the company's work of placing all natural gas meters outside the premises served and liberalization of its gas service extension policy.

Both phases of the program will eliminate overhead lines and utility poles and is to be carried out during a 10-year period.

In location of electrical service under new subdivisions, provision is made for installation of service from the distributing line to the house. A charge of $77 per house will be made for this installation, excepting customers with major electrical appliances, such as in Medallion Homes and others using extensive electrical service.

Aids Farm Customers
The three-phase extension policy will be of particular advantage to rural customers, Mathias said, pointing out the company, throughout its system, serves approximately 25,000 farm customers.

Under the new policy, a customer qualifying for three-phase service can have it extended without the customary charge. Three-phase is a type of service required and utilized by heavy-duty motors which are in increasing use on farms.

The company has allotted special funds in speed up its program of relocating indoor gas meters to avoid the inconvenience to customers of home entry by meter readers.

Mathias said that engineering plans for relocation of downtown systems to underground cables will be designed for a minimum of work in the streets, requiring opening of street for a great majority of the new lines would be located in alleys in Granite City, he said.

Mayor Assigns Crossing Guard On Benton Street

A school crossing guard was assigned today to the crosswalk on Benton street at Oregon avenue, where 40 to 60 Netherland grade school pupils cross daily in the morning and after school hours.

Beginning in the bitter cold Monday morning, a group of mothers led by Mrs. Arnold Fleishman, the school PTA-president, began this week to provide protection by forming a human chain across the road way at a curve whenever youngsters arrived to cross the busy thoroughfare.

Mayor Partney said yesterday a substitute guard was being assigned to the crosswalk today in response to council action of Monday night in transferring necessary funds to the school crossing guard account to pay salaries.

The mayor had contended the funds deficit of several thousand dollars indicated that while the council had approved a guard for the crosswalk, they did not want to cover the $6 per day cost for the city's 13th school guard.

Seventh Ward Alderman Robertson, who spearheaded the PTA's demands before the council in recent months, called for the attorney and comptroller for a general transfer of funds to all accounts with deficits.

This was challenged by Alderman Rutledge, chairman of the Finance committee, who said the transfers should not be done until near the end of the fiscal year in April so the amounts could be more exact. He asked Robertson to limit his request to a "stop" of parking meter funds to the school crossing guard account.

Robertson's motion was approved 7-6, and then Seventh Ward Alderman Sternberg stressed the need for immediate transfer of funds to the school crossing guard account to provide protection demanded by the mothers without delay. His motion was approved 11-6-2. (Aldermen Norm, Dallas and Parnell had left to go to work.)

Sternberg had asked Robertson to withdraw his motion for the fund transfer study, and pointed out the he (Sternberg) was changing his vote to favor not only a guard on Benton and Oregon but also at the crosswalk on Rehling road at State street.

Robertson held to his guns. After the voting on both motions, Sternberg called for a study by the Traffic Commission to determine if the city should replace all crossing guards with electric traffic signals. He pointed out the state highway department does not permit the guards to halt traffic.

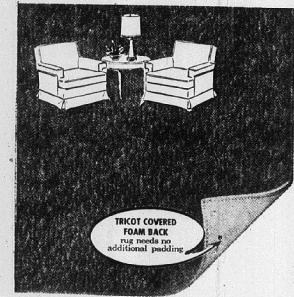

Action on his motion was deferred on requests by Aldermen Boyd and Poulos. Earlier in the session, the Police committee authorized the police committee to prepare an outline of duties for school crossing guards.

Area Groundwater Study Published by State

A comprehensive study of groundwater in the local Illinois area was published this week by the Illinois State Water Survey. It includes a prediction of the effects of future developments made with an electric analog computer, for the 175-square-mile area.

The new publication is entitled "Ground-Water Development in East St. Louis Area, Illinois," and was written by Richard J. Schicht, Water Survey engineer.

Schicht explains that wells in sand and gravel aquifer along the valley lowlands of the Mississippi River have provided large quantities of water for the highly populated and industrialized East St. Louis area for more than 50 years.

Heavy Pumping Problems
However, over the years heavy pumping has caused the water table to drop significantly in some places. Daily pumping

The study shows that the sand and gravel aquifer averages about 30 miles long and seven miles wide, and has an average thickness of 120 feet. Distribution of pumping, the long-term, practical, sustained yield, of pumping centers and the quality of water are described.

10-Foot Drop Here
Water-level declines from 1900 to 1962 in the five major pumping centers were about 50 feet in the Monsanto area, 40 feet in the Wood River area, 20 feet in the Alton area, 15 feet in the National City area, and 10 feet in the Granite City area.

From 1957 to 1961 water levels in the Granite City area recovered about 50 feet where pumping decreased from 31.8 to 8.0 million gallons a day.

"In order to study the practical sustained yield of the aquifer and to predict the effects of future development, we assembled the computer mechanism that simulates groundwater conditions of the area," Schicht notes.

The analog device of the computer forms a scaled model of the aquifer and is composed of resistors that represent hydraulic factors and condensers that store electrostatic energy in a manner representing the storage of water in the aquifer. Electronic equipment is used with the model to relate and measure the effects of pumping on water levels.

"The important advantage of the analog computer device is that it allows us to evaluate, both quickly and accurately, several alternate schemes of water development in the area," Schicht says.

He adds that, during this research, the accuracy and reliability of the electric analog model

GC Chief, Wife Hurt
An auto accident at 3:40 p.m. Tuesday on Highway 66, just 200 feet north of Interstate 270, north-east of the Quad-Cities, hospitalized Mrs. Marian Willard, the wife of Granite City Police Chief Raymond J. Willard. The couple was enroute home after attending a three-day conference of the Illinois Police Chiefs Association in Chicago.

Mrs. Willard, who was driving the car, was admitted at St. Elizabeth Hospital with a severely bruised left shoulder and displaced right elbow. Her condition today is described as good.

Chief Willard was treated for a laceration on his forehead and a bruise on his chest. He was released.

According to state police, an unidentified vehicle parked near the exit ramp on Highway 66 pulled out in front of the local couple's car, causing Mrs. Willard to swerve sharply to avoid striking it. A third vehicle driven by Carl M. Adams, 41, of Mt. Auburn, Ill., then crashed into the rear of the Willard's auto, causing considerable damage.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Willard were taken to hospital by ambulance.

el were tested by comparing its computed values of water levels with actual water levels for which close agreement was found.

The new publication is listed as report of investigation 51. Single copies may be obtained from the Illinois State Water Survey, Box 232, Urbana, Ill. 61802.

How On Crash Injures 3

Three persons were injured in a vehicle Monday evening when a car driven by Charles Crow, 24, of East St. Louis, figured in two accidents. According to reports by Venice police, Crow left the scene of the first accident at Sixth and Broadway about 8:30 p.m., and a short time later crashed into another car on the Broadway viaduct.

In addition to Crow, who was admitted to Elizabeth Hospital with cuts to his face and ribs, the injured included Clair Clark, 45, of 2351 East 25th street, and Earl D. Harrison, 30, of 2218 Edwards avenue, drivers of the other cars involved in collisions with Crow's car. Clark suffered a neck injury and Harrison was admitted to the hospital with a lacerated chin, abrasions to both knees and rib pains.

Clark said his car was struck by Crow's at 8:30 p.m. as Clark stopped for traffic at Sixth and Broadway and Crow pulled out of the other traffic lane. Clark told police that the driver of the other car was waved at, then drove away.

At 8:45, according to police reports, Crow's car, headed east, stopped in the front of Harrison's car which was headed west on the Broadway viaduct. Witnesses told police Crow's car hit Harrison's car and Crow pulled out of the traffic. Police reported Harrison's car was knocked 72 feet back from the point of impact. Both cars were damaged extensively in the front ends.

Crow was charged by Venice police with improper lane usage. Clark told police he did not wish to file charges.

Strong Battery, Light Oil Are Keys to Winter Starting

Equipping a car with a strong battery and lightweight oil are two of the most important assets to a winter of trouble-free starting, according to the AAA Auto mobile Club, Illinois Division.

Having the correct viscosity engine oil in the car's crankcase can mean the difference between starting and stalling during cold starts. The wrong weight oil plus an added strain on the car's cranking system and can make it impossible for the engine to start.

The colder the weather the lighter the engine oil should be. Viscosity is merely the measure of an oil's weight. Each reduction in engine oil viscosity lowers the minimum starting temperature for a car by approximately 15 degrees. Tests have shown that an engine with a 110-hp

Two persons were injured when Gilbert A. Sadler, 31, of 2014 Richmond avenue, suffered an asthma attack and blacked out at the wheel of his auto, striking a sign at the home of Alvin Cavin, 1220 Edwardsville road, at 7:35 p.m. Tuesday, police reported.

State Capitol NEWS

Aid for Viet Children
Leaders of the Catholic, Protestant and Jewish faiths have joined Illinois businessmen to launch the "Lincolndland-Vietnam Children's Fund"—a campaign to raise money to buy food, clothing and medicine for the war-stricken children of Vietnam.

The fund drive has been organized by members of Gov. Kerner's recent Illinois Trade Mission to the Far East in response to the Governor's appeal to all Illinois residents to aid suffering Viet children. The idea for the gift campaign developed during Gov. Kerner's visit to Vietnam and talks with Gen. W. C. Westmoreland, the U. S. commander.

All monies collected on a statewide basis will be turned over to the Chaplain Fund of the U. S. Military Assistance Command in Vietnam. The unit chaplains and the troop units they serve will purchase food, clothing and medicine for the children as needed.

Contribution checks are to be made payable to Lincolndland-Vietnam Children's Fund and sent to Albert Heiser, 33 N. La Salle St., Suite 1208, Chicago, Ill. 60602.

Geese Baggd
Hunters bagged 15,079 geese during the southern Illinois season, officials of the Illinois Department of Conservation said this week. The season began on Nov. 8 and ended on Dec. 23.

Most of the geese, 8334, were taken around Horseshoe Lake, north of Cairo in Alexander county. Hunters in Union County bagged 5085 Canada geese and 690 were taken in Williamson county.

No More Red Dogs
Illinois housewives will see no more red in sausage type products, such as wiensers and frankfurters, or the water in which they are heated.

Artificial coloring in the sausage products, wiensers and frankfurters, affectionately known as "hot dogs," is prohibited by law, according to Robert M. Schneider, director of the Illinois Department of Agriculture.

However, the law, which permitted under the Federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act, has previously been allowed in the state.

Assembly passed legislation prohibiting use of artificial color in this state, as suggested by the Illinois Department of Agriculture. The famous product that has become synonymous with the typical American, the hot dog, is expected to retain its preferential position despite its subdued color.

Aid Rolls Decline
In 1965 Illinois public aid rolls continued the decline that has persisted since the upward trend was reversed in 1962, when the peak for recent years was reached in May. The December 1965 caseload had 8200 fewer cases and 20,000 fewer persons than were on the rolls in December 1964. This was 27,400 fewer cases and 53,000 fewer persons than the May 1962 totals of 199,173 cases and 453,270 persons.

Reports of Child Abuse
Cases of suspected abuse involving 228 children have been reported to the Department of Children and Family Services during the first six months of the new Illinois child abuse law. The department's Chicago region received 131 reports; the Aurora region, 22; Peoria, 18; Champaign, 16; East St. Louis, 14; Rockford, 13; Carbondale and Springfield, nine each.

Deaths of 15 children were reported under the law.

Junior Service Club Plans Chuck Wagon, Fashion Show

The Granite City Junior Service Club made plans for a federation project and a local site show during a meeting Monday evening at the Civil Defense building. Miss Helen Parsaghan, president, presided and reports were received from Mrs. Rena James and Mrs. Mary Schaffner on four eye examinations provided for children of the area.

Discussions were held on the Junior Service Federation Commission project for the year which will be a Chuck Wagon Dinner at the Fairmont Hotel in Collinsville on March 26, to be attended by all Junior Service Clubs of the Quad-Cities and surrounding towns. The proceeds from this will go to the children's department of Alton State Hospital.

Mrs. Bernice Fitzpatrick, fashion show chairman, reported the theme is to be "Hawaiian Holiday." The show will be held March 31 in the Granite City high school auditorium, and the narrator will be Jack Mardock, a TV personality. Serving on her committee are Miss Parsaghan, Mrs. Eva Burns, Mrs. Faye Krause, Mrs. Evelyn Morris, Mrs. Kathleen Obucina, Mrs. Rena James and Mrs. Jean Ann Vrenick.

Mrs. Louise Kovar was appointed chairman for a special party which will be held Feb. 28. It was announced that items are now being collected for the "flea market" rummage sale to be held in October. Articles will be accepted by any member.

The evening concluded with refreshments served by the hostesses, Mrs. Flora Mak Lanning, Mrs. Marilyn Bodman and Mrs. Evelyn Morris, to the above named and to Miss Junita Bell, Mrs. Audrey Jaros, Mrs. Candy Kawula, Miss Margie Green, Mrs. Dorothy Menkamp, Miss Diana Vartan, and Mrs. Vivian Vaughn. Probationary members present were Mesdames Sandra Colley, Wilma Eddington, Kay Reel, Delores Schutzenhofer, Carl Shea, Evelyn Todd and Gladys Wagner.

This month's homemade article was made by Miss Diane Louise Kovar and was awarded to Mrs. Louise Kovar.

The next board meeting will be Feb. 14, and the regular meeting Feb. 21.

Mrs. Judi Allen, chairman, was assisted by Mrs. Gay Rosch, Mrs. Elvira Thurber, Mrs. Dolores Allen, Mrs. Rosi Darling and Mrs. Winifred Costello.

Alderman Gene Sternberg, guest speaker, discussed "Problems of Youth in a Changing Society," and Mrs. Helene Bischoff presided over a business session.

Announcement was made of a district meeting, March 13 in Belleville with the O'Fallon club as hostess group, and tentative plans were made for the observance of National Business Week in March.

Guests at the meeting were Mr. and Mrs. Sternberg, Mrs. Helen Concessio and Mrs. Alma Brown of Marissa, district chairman.

The prize for the evening went to Dr. Felicia Koch.

Federal Grant Status

The newly-established Federal Department of Housing and Urban Development today approved a re-certification of Granite City's workable program. The action extends the city's eligibility for government grants for urban renewal, low rent housing, lower FHA mortgage insurance and other projects.

The workable programs submitted by cities are reviewed periodically, and the maintain its eligibility status a city must show reasonable progress in development. The re-certification was announced in Washington by the office of Cong. Melvin Price, Democrat of East St. Louis.

MORE ABOUT

natural-site landscaping techniques, creating a restful, mild city oasis, as opposed to more formally planned gardens or monuments. Two of the sketches were accompanied by historical facts, dating back to the start of Granite City in the early 1890's, which were utilized in researching possibilities for the site.

In presenting the drawings for the park commissioners' consideration, Dr. Taylor said he was aware that others cannot plan in exact detail just what is desired by the residents of a community. However, he added, the sketches prepared by the graduate students may encompass many ideas, providing a basis for a final decision by the board and city leaders.

Those submitting plans included Charles E. Willman, a conservationist and naturalist, whose drawing involved a central focal point such as a fountain, waterfall or flower bed, with a perimeter of low bushes.

A second design, created by Tommy R. Chelson, who is now working at a federal government conservation project in Kentucky, follows a similar theme showing three paths converging to a central area. Use of dogwood and redbud trees, evergreen, flower beds was indicated, and log benches were situated at strategic points along the walkways.

Small Stream, Gravel Path

The most novel approach was offered by SUI' freshman football coach, James F. Gilstrap, whose plan suggested the construction of a 32-foot wide stream, lined with moss, stones and appropriate foliage. He proposed the water originate from pipes laid beneath the sidewalk at either end of the 6156-acre tract of land with a small, inexpensive pump utilized to keep the water constantly re-circulating through the ditch.

He also suggested that a single gravelled path follow the stream's course, leading over a small wooden bridge and that a plaque be placed within the new park.

Dr. Taylor said that all three students had visited the proposed park area and would return to Granite City to further discuss their plans if requested.

Preserve Six Trees

In connection with the downtown park project, Loman reported that local garden club members have volunteered their assistance in landscaping the area. An attempt will be made, he said, to preserve six large trees and magnolia bush, located near the post office building.

The building's cornerstone and flagpole also are to be retained, the board official said. It was suggested that Illinois Power Co. be approached for ideas on appropriate lighting for the new park.

In other action, Park Board Atty. Randall Robertson informed the group that a resolution currently is being prepared for the sale of $475,000 in general obligation bonds, authorized by park district voters Dec. 18, for construction of the new ice rink and recreation center in Wilson Park.

Robertson said he planned to confer Tuesday with the bonding firm of Chapman & Cutler, Chicago, which is preparing the bond sale resolution. He added that with no taxes becoming available for the project until June 1962, it is intended to set the initial payment of interest after that date. The bond issue is to be financed over a ten-year period.

Rink Bid Call Next Month

Loman said that detailed plans for the new ice rink should be completed by the architects next month and then bids will be sought. He said it is hoped bids would be returned to the board by April 1, with construction to start immediately after the contract is awarded. Hope also was expressed by the board president that the ice rink pavilion will be in use by Dec. 1, 1962.

William Hoescher, executive secretary of the Manufacturers' Association of the Tri-Cities, asked if the board would take into consideration the addition of a folding stage or bleachers seating, to allow the center to be suitable for gatherings of 2000-3000 persons.

Loman said lack of funds prohibit including these proposals at the present time, however, he added, space is available at one side of the pavilion for such a project if funds would be acquired at a later date. Several minor alterations to the original plan are being contemplated, the park official said, resulting from a first-hand tour by commissioners of a similar ice rink project in Decatur.

The pavilion, which is to be located a short distance north of the park office, is to cover a 115x205 foot, concrete surface that will provide an 88x188 foot rink. Included in the construction will be a 5000-square foot warming room, concession building, rest rooms and a 57x68-foot paved patio area.

With a roof over the large central area, the park commissioners are planning for ice skating four to five months of the year. The remainder of the time, the structure will be available for use for community gatherings, concerts, square dances, gymnastics, theatrical presentations, sports exhibitions, flower shows, conventions, festivals and other types of meetings.

Among those attending Monday evening's briefing were Everett Steele, James Burton, Herbert Seibert, E. A. Karandjeff, Ferd Gower, C. E. Townsend, Carl Mathias, Eugene Coe, James Holland, Michael Day, Milton Worthen, William Kozay, Frank Rea, Clarence Baumeyer and Ernest Veith.

Use Care in Selecting Leather Fabrics

Simulated leather rates high on the fashion list this season. Available in ready-to-wear garments and as yard goods, it is also being used as a "trim" for garments of wool, silk and some of the synthetic fabrics.

When buying leather, learn whether it is genuine or simulated. The label and the hang tag should give this information.

The simulated leather is less expensive than the genuine and is being used for medium- and lower-priced garments. It is beautiful in color and texture and has the appearance of genuine leather.

Most items made of simulated leather must be well-cleaned. It is hand brushed with a mild detergent and water. However, some are labeled as dry-cleanable.

Unless the simulated leather can be dry-cleaned, it should be dry-cleaned.

Record 24-Hour Snow—76 Inches in Colorado

As Quad-Cityans gear up for the falling snow and brood about galoshes, snow shovels, and aching backs, remember that it could be worse.

Much worse. For instance, back in 1921, 76 inches of snow fell at Silver Lake, Colo., in just 24 hours. And at Tahoe, Calif., 108 inches of snow came down between Jan. 12 and 15, 1953.

The record snowfall for a calendar month occurred at Tamarack, Calif., which got 399 inches during January 1911. In the same year a record depth of snow accumulated at Tamarack where 654 inches covered the ground.

The all-time U. S. record for snowfall in one season was set from July 1953 to June 1956, when 1000.3 inches of snow fell at the 5500-foot level of Mount Rainier.

All these figures are records, and therefore unusual. But Indianapolis snowfalls of 30 inches are not unusual at all. In the hills southeast of Lake Erie and Lake Ontario, the average winter snowfall is more than 150 inches. Erie, Pa., on the southeast shore of Lake Erie, was buried by a 7-inch snowfall on Thanksgiving Day, 1956.

There are few spots in the United States which never get snow. For instance, snow fell as far south as Lakeland, Fla., near St. Petersburg, in January 1958.

The same concentration of disinfectants was used with cold water which had proven effective with hot water.

With no disinfectant, far more bacteria survived in cold water than in hot water washes.

When scientists added the appropriate amount of chlorine in the wash cycle, or quaternary disinfectants in the rinse, bacteria count was cut to 40 or less per square inch of fabric at the end of the spin-dry cycle—regardless of the water temperature.

On the other hand, when laundry was washed in cold water, cold water detergent, the addition of phenolic or pin oil disinfectants in the wash cycle was relatively ineffective in reducing the bacterial level.

Water temperatures ranged from 57° to 64° F. during cold water laundering and 122° F. to 140° F. during hot water laundering.

County Seeks Bids On Maryville Road

A call for bids for construction of concrete pavement along Maryville road was authorized by the Madison county board of supervisors in a meeting Wednesday in Edwardsville. The bids will be read Feb. 16.

The improvement will extend from Chain of Rocks road near Mitchell to Pantion road, with the city of Granite City to share in the cost of three blocks of the pavement within the city limits. A county motor fuel tax appropriation of $50,000 for the project has been approved by the state highway division.

Plans call for a 44-foot wide pavement with curbs and gutters south of Route 203 and a 24-foot wide pavement with 10-foot shoulders north of Route 203.

The board approved purchases of right-of-way for the road of .02 acre from James and Thelma Greer at a cost of $80, including a damage to property not taken; .59 acre from Philip and Elizabeth Morrison at a cost of $2120; and .59 acre from Victor and Clara Wesemann for $200; plus $38 in taxes due to the county treasurer.

Liquor License Hike?
During the meeting a recommendation to increase the county liquor license fee by $200 to $500, payable $250 semi-annually, was referred to the liquor license committee.

It was estimated an additional $27,200 in revenue could be obtained which would more than finance employment of three additional night riders and two part-time cars for the sheriff's department, authorized in the new county budget.

Harry Briggs, Nameoki township supervisor, urged the new building committee to move to lease 800 acres of ground available at the Alton State Hospital from the state until plans for recreational use of the property can be submitted to the state. He said the county could obtain a lease at $1 per year for two years.

A call by Robert Ford, assistant supervisor of Wood River township for a report from the unofficial committee studying proposals for a county airport near Mitchell, was made, and Harold Landolt, board chairman, suggested that one be presented next month.

It was brought out that Fostair Aviation, that won quick approval to rezone agricultural land adjacent to Route 111 and Interstate 270 last summer for manufacturing and airport purposes, has yet to start development of a private airport pending plans for a larger county facility. At this time Ford opposed the development.

The board approved a contract with Triangle Typewriter Co. of Granite City for maintenance of typewriters and adding machines in the court house on a low bid of $15.95 per unit.

The investigation and license committee reported that a record total of 195 licenses for amusement devices and places providing transient lodging were issued during 1956 with fees totaling $4875. The committee is conducting an "in the field" enforcement survey on the licenses.

Madison County Federal S&L Re-Elects Directors

At the annual meeting yesterday, Madison County Federal Savings & Loan Association stockholders re-elected the directors, A. F. Buente Jr., R. Y. Champion, R. B. Dunlap, A. H. Froemling, E. L. Hopkins, W. Huxel, J. L. Pultch, J. W. Reese and Gilbert Roach.

The following officers were re-elected: Huxel, president; Buente and Roach, vice-presidents; Froemling, executive; and N. L. Jackson, assistant secretary. C. P. Specking was promoted to treasurer and assistant secretary.

Assets of the firm reached a total of $7,553,351 as of Dec. 31, according to Froemling.

Intense Competition
The past year has been one of intense competition for savings dollars and it looks as if 1966 will give us more of the same," Froemling said. "However, I think that next year is going to see some increase in advertising efforts on the part of savings and loan associations, not only here in Granite City but throughout the country."

"At the same time there are indications of a strengthening in the local real estate market. This should mean increased activity in the mortgage lending field in the community."

Froemling said that during 1965 net savings growth at Madison County Federal amounted to $469,579 bringing total savings balances to $7,119,018.

During the year the association put $1,506,259 in mortgage loans on the books. Mortgage loans in the institution's portfolio now total $6,087,829.

Froemling pointed out that with the continuation of our present prosperity, the ever-increasing family formations and an ample supply of mortgage credit that there was every indication of an increase in the demand for single family homes.

"All in all, we are optimistic about 1966 for the savings and loan business," Froemling added.

MORE ABOUT

Builders

$4.60 per hour. The annual 20-cent wage increase consequently will start in August for the carpenters, and on Jan. 1, 1968, for the operating engineers.

Negotiations for similar extensions also are under way. It was reported, with the cement masons, ironworkers and laborers unions whose present contracts run to July 81.

Assures Labor Peace
An important feature of the extensions, a representative of the builders association pointed out, is that labor peace is insured from three and a half to five years, providing a firm basis upon which contractors can estimate building costs.

In addition to the 60-cent wage package, employers operating through the Builders or Contractors associations will pay an additional 2 cents per hour for every hour worked into a fund for establishment of a Construction Advancement Foundation which is to begin operation Aug. 1.

The foundation will be a non-profit organization conducted under federal law to set up programs for advanced craft training and education, safety education, market development and informational betterment for the common good of the building industry. Apprentice training programs are expected to be included in this program.

The Southern Illinois Builders Association is an organization of industrial and commercial building contractors, headed by Fred A. Wueller of J. J. Wueller & Sons of Alton. The Southern Illinois Contractors Association represents highway and road contractors and is headed by Michael P. Keeley Jr. of Keeley Bros. Contracting Co. of East St. Louis. H. L. Ganey is executive director of both organizations at offices in Belleville.

Roy Thebeau Improving
Roy Thebeau, 3516 Nameoki road, a Granite City insurance broker, who has been a patient in Firmin Desloge Hospital in St. Louis since Jan. 12, is much improved, according to a report from the family. His condition has been diagnosed as acute hypertension, instead of a stroke as was at first feared. Although he is much better, he will be required to remain in the hospital for several weeks.

Marriage License Issued
A marriage license has been issued in Belleville to Gary N. Metcalfe, 24, East St. Louis, and Miss Arantha Weisbach, Madison

County Growing With Zoning

(Collinsville Herald)

The 1965 report of Madison County Building and Zoning Administrator Jack Clifford shows 1242 building permits issued in Madison county last year, for $17,770,306. That's $4,319,406 more than the year before.

Opponents of county zoning used as one of their principal arguments the contention that zoning would stop growth, that it would prevent new buildings. Proponents contended that it would encourage growth and speed new building by assuring builders that they need not fear the type of neighbors they might get.

Ever since it went into effect there has been a steady increase in construction in Madison county. Apparently the proponents were right. The proof of the pudding is in the eating.

County Zoning Ordinance is not perfect. There have been some situations which did not work out to everybody's satisfaction. Strong proponents of zoning recognize the need for some changes in the basic document. Still, the net result has been good. So good, in fact, that the opponents don't talk much any more about repeal, only about altering the parts they dislike.

Madison county, situated close to downtown St. Louis, with its rail and highway transport available, and plenty of space for residential growth, is gaining population rapidly.

"Perhaps the growth would have come without zoning. Certainly, the facts speak for themselves. It has come with zoning. Whether it contributed to growth or not, we have been able to have its other advantages without stopping our growth."

All the more reason to do the linking with the ordinance which will remove the rough spots which bring it criticism now.

'Free' Federal Aid— Only $1.67 A Dollar

The nice part about federal aid is that it's free.

It isn't really free of course. It's taxes. And we know where they come from too.

But it's just as free as store purchases on a charge account. Or gasoline bought with a credit card. Or money obtained with a loan. So that makes federal aid almost as easy to get as a loan.

And federal spending is much less painful than repaying a debt. After all, a charge account or a credit card bill or a loan have to be paid off later. But we pay most of our income taxes the "easy" way, through having them withheld.

And then there are the hundreds of hidden federal taxes on every product. But maybe we'd better not go into that. Some of them are so "easy" to pay and so hard to detect that just thinking about them can give one a terrible headache, which is not painless and thus should be avoided.

As we were saying, the nice thing about federal tax aid is that it's free. This thought comes to mind with perusal of the latest Illinois taxpayers' Federation analysis, which shows that Illinois taxpayers contribute $1.67 for each dollar's worth of Uncle Sam's money received in return.

And this assumes no wasted funds: the 50 states weighted so that as a group they get $1 for each dollar of federal outlay. Losses, shrinkage, or whatever one may wish to call it undoubtedly runs the cost to Illinois far above $1.67; but that's another matter which we'd better not go into at this time. Those headaches, you know.

Perhaps we in Illinois are just lucky. We may pay more than Alaska (13 cents) or Iowa (99 cents), but our $1.67 is downright cheap compared to such states as New Jersey ($2.07) and Delaware ($2.53).

Of the 32 states which get more than they give, Louisiana led in total gain last year with $129 million. Of the 18 which give more than they get, New York headed the list with $322 million. You guessed it, Illinois was second with a contribution of $158 million.

It's a good thing federal aid is free. Otherwise, we might not be able to afford it.

Then there is the federal debt, and all those billions of dollars in interest. But let's not go into that.

It is not difficult to meet expenses; they're everywhere.

Dr. SIMS says SAFEGUARD YOUR HEALTH

A PUBLIC SERVICE OF THE ILLINOIS STATE MEDICAL SOCIETY

DON'T WORRY ABOUT INFANT'S BIRTHMARK

If your infant has a strawberry birthmark, don't worry. There's an excellent chance it will disappear on its own—without medical treatment.

Characterized by a soft and compressible red lesion elevated above the skin's surface, this birthmark (medically known as an immature hemangioma) truly resembles a strawberry.

May Grow In First Year Although it may grow rapidly during your infant's first year, don't let this frighten you. The size will eventually reach a point where it remains unchanged, usually within 18 months of age, and then reduces.

But regression is very slow. It may take two to six years before the strawberry mark disappears. By age seven, however, over 70% of these marks completely disappear, leaving absolutely no trace behind.

Another type of birthmark that may disappear on its own is the cavernous hemangioma. This type of birthmark involves blood vessels, conglomeration beneath the skin and give it a bluish color.

This birthmark's course of regression usually is similar to the strawberry mark; but it may leave a trace. This is because some of the overlying skin may be destroyed.

Most Common Type Unfortunately, the most common type of birthmark—the portwine stain (capillary hemangioma)—rarely disappears or fades with age. However, it often appears on the back of the scalp, where it is covered by hair.

Should this reddish mark appear on the face, certain treatments may be used with varying success. Perhaps the least expensive and safest treatment is to camouflage the mark with cosmetic creams prepared specifically for this purpose.

What causes birthmarks? There are many superstitions which hold that these marks are caused by evil influences, such as a frightening experience, a bad dream, etc. There is absolutely no truth to this.

Some authorities believe the marks may be caused by some defect in the child's development—perhaps a hereditary defect—which prevents the small blood vessels of the outer skin to develop properly. The exact cause, however, has not yet been determined.

Let me say first if it is your own child, please do not let this frighten you. The size will eventually reach a point where it remains unchanged, usually within 18 months of age, and then reduces.

The Era Has Ended But The Memories Linger On

The state police raid in 1950 may have marked the beginning of the end of gangsterism in the Quad-Cities and Madison county, but it was not the final chapter. It was not until the mid-1950s that an aroused citizenry was able to firmly establish the realization that such lawlessness would no longer be tolerated in this county.

It is these years—1953, 1954 and 1955—that figure into the tax evasion trial of Frank "Buster" Wortman. Comments on the merits of the case itself will not be suitable until a verdict has been reached, but testimony mentioning such enterprises as the Junction T. Club in Venice, Clubs Prevue on Collinsville road, Club Premier, the Perleway Club, the Paramount Club and the R & R Club inescapably brings back numerous not-so-fond memories to Quad-Citians.

Regardless of which individuals are linked with the activities or absolved, there has been substantial documentation in past court cases of the basic assertions that the Press-Record published at the time: that there were law violations of a scope large enough to seriously damage normal governmental processes, and that there was hoodlum control of such illicit operations.

Clubs publicized as "the place to go... if you're in the know" are gone, and with them many of the people who were associated with them. But recollections of the whole era linger on as a reminder that there is no alternative in a just and civilized society to respect for the law.

In the words of FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, "Crime can be controlled. It will be controlled when the good citizens of this nation, individually, take a stand against it when they demonstrate a respect for the law through word and deed, and when they cooperate with and support law enforcement. This is not a struggle for spectators; everyone is a participant, whether active or passive."

As we were saying, the nice thing about federal tax aid is that it's free. This thought comes to mind with perusal of the latest Illinois taxpayers' Federation analysis, which shows that Illinois taxpayers contribute $1.67 for each dollar's worth of Uncle Sam's money received in return.

And this assumes no wasted funds: the 50 states weighted so that as a group they get $1 for each dollar of federal outlay. Losses, shrinkage, or whatever one may wish to call it undoubtedly runs the cost to Illinois far above $1.67; but that's another matter which we'd better not go into at this time. Those headaches, you know.

It's a good thing federal aid is free. Otherwise, we might not be able to afford it.

Then there is the federal debt, and all those billions of dollars in interest. But let's not go into that.

It is not difficult to meet expenses; they're everywhere.

Madison County Faces Detention Home Difficulty

Madison county court authorities still are confronted by the which they would have no place possibility of an emergency in to house delinquent or dependent youths, it was pointed out this week in a warning that St. Clair county will discontinue use of their detention home by outside county if it is filled to capacity by its own cases.

The detention home, now being used by Madison county under an arrangement with St. Clair officials, is under control of the 29th Judicial Circuit Court which may or may not permit continued use of the home by outside counties. Madison was denied use of the home on one occasion when the court ruled it could be used by out-of-the-county agencies only for "temporary" detention.

The top floor of the structure houses facilities for dependent boys. Dependent girls are housed on the second floor, while the first floor is occupied by a nursery, kitchen, office, physician's office and school. Delinquent boys are housed in a "drive-in" section of the building.

Cost of maintaining the home, which is to be replaced by St. Clair county, is more than $100,000 per year. The separate sections, on occasion, fill and empty at a rapid pace. The home has 13 full-time employees.

Stop Sign Going Back Up On Benton St. at 22nd

Approval for re-installation of a stop sign on Benton street at 22nd street was given in a 9-0 vote of the Granite City council Monday night.

There was no debate. Replacement of the sign had been roundly argued at earlier sessions. The citizens' Traffic Study Commission and its traffic committee had recommended elimination of the sign and had rejected the re-installation called for by Third Ward Aldermen Poulos and Boyd.

The ordinance for re-installation went on first reading at the Jan. 3 council meeting, and aldermanic courtesy prevailed Monday night for the approval.

Voting for the sign were Aldermen Norn, Basarich, Bartosik, Johnson, Boyd, Dallas, Robertson, Poulos and Green. Opposed were Rutledge, Whitmer, Moenliet, Sternberg, Thompson, Fry and Parnley.

The commission had brought about the sign's removal in its program for elimination of unnecessary stop signs. Poulos and Boyd brought out they had received numerous complaints from residents of the area of speeding on Benton street at that location and hazardous to school children using the crossing.

Traffic on 22nd street is controlled by stop signs at the intersection.

The chairman of the Traffic Commission, Dale Amette, and the traffic engineer, G. L. Crawford, were in the audience but were not called upon to speak.

'Computer Dates' For SIU Dance

A group of Southern Illinois University students at Carbondale will have a "computer date" dance with a minimum of time and effort on the part of the university's busy data processing and computing center.

Male students and coeds will be matched by electronic computer on the basis of common interests and characteristics. Only a few minutes of computer time will be needed to match 300 girls of Woody hall with a like number of men from an on-campus residence complex. The dance is set for tomorrow night.

Students will not know who their dates are until the time of the dance, but after filling out the detailed, five-page questionnaire, some are beginning to get excited about the possibilities.

Said one comely coed, "We didn't mind filling out the long questionnaires if they assure us of well-matched dates. And they asked for so much information, it's just got to work."

Accredited courses in religion are available to Southern Illinois University students through Marching Salukis, appears during half-time at many professional football games.

Granite City PRESS-RECORD
Thurs., Jan. 20, 1966

Waiters, Others Must Report Tip Income

Effective this month, waiters, waitresses, bus boys and other employees who receive tips for their services in bars, restaurants, hotels or similar places must report to their employers the amount of tips collected so that it may be recorded as received income and Social Security taxes paid on the amount.

The employer is required to collect from the employee, or deduct from his salary, the additional amount of Social Security to cover the amount of tips received, and also must pay his own share of the Social Security tax. A quarterly report customarily made by employers for payment of Social Security tax also will show the total amount of tips received by the employee during the three-month quarter.

According to the Internal Revenue district office at East St. Louis, the report on tips, and payment of the additional Social Security tax by the employee must be made weekly if the employee is paid weekly. If the employee is paid by the month, the additional deduction and report may be on a monthly basis. The East St. Louis office said that new forms for reports to the employer by the employee, and to the government by the employer, are being prepared. A booklet also is being printed by the IRS for such employees to keep records of their payments to the employers.

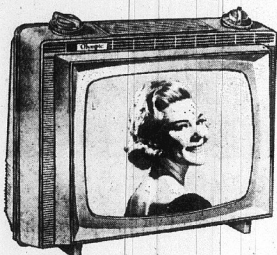

Employees will not be required to make quarterly reports on their income from tips. The income will be computed by the employers at the end of the year and shown as wages on W-2 forms given to the employee in January.

Air-Conditioning Considered for 6 New Police Cars

Air-conditioning will be an optional item in specifications for new police cars in Granite City.

A bid call was authorized by the council Monday night, but the ultimate decision on air-conditioning was postponed until bids are received. The five cars will be either purchased or leased.

Alderman Whitmer, chairman of the Police committee, said the committee will confer with police department officials and has been considering the suggestion made Monday night by Alderman Fry.

This year will mark the first time the city has sought lease bids as well as purchase bids. The city wants to get five regular patrol cars and a station wagon for the police dog patrol.

Whitmer said the present cars, about a year old, have been driven 40,000 to 45,000 miles. It is to be determined if any will be suitable to replace older cars assigned to other city officers.

Fund for Police Bldg.

Approved by the council was a motion by Whitmer for the $38,336 to be received by the city in the state highway department's purchase of the police firing range in Lincoln Place for the funds to be placed in a special account for construction of a police station building with a jail on the city-owned block near the new fire station at 23rd street and Madison avenue.

A suggestion was made by Alderman Bartosik that the $7000 set up in the budget for remodeling the present police headquarters in the city hall be left unspent and added to the funds for construction. The council agreed.

The shooting range must be moved to provide right-of-way for the new Riverfront Roadway, Federal A Route 131. Funds from the sale of lots at the city-owned gunnery hut block, now amounting to about $1100 are in a special fund for construction of a new fire station in the Nameoki area.

At Whitmer's suggestion, a resolution is to be prepared for the city to participate in a state-operated Police Training Institute which was authorized at the last session of the state legislature.

Under the resolution, the city would agree to participate in the program established to train the policemen, and the state would pay half the cost for an officer to attend three or four-week sessions with the total amount per officer not to exceed $300.

In a brief report, Alderman Johnson, chairman of the Fire committee, asked that a resolution be prepared to designate the gunnery hut property sale money be designated for the new fire station proposed for the Nameoki area.

He also asked Mayor Parney to contact architects for the main fire station to determine the cause of cracks along tile walls on the second floor.

Leases Open for 241 Acres Along Canal

Deadline for sealed bids for the leasing of 241½ acres of federally-owned land along the Chain of Rocks Canal has been set for Feb. 15, at 10 a.m. in the office of the U. S. Army Engineer District in St. Louis.

The bids will then be opened and publicly read. There are eight tracts of land offered for lease for agricultural purposes only.

One of the conditions upon leasing the land is that the following crops are not raised: barley, corn, cotton, dry edibles, beans, grain sorghums, oats, peanuts, rice, rye, soybeans, tobacco, and wheat.

At present the majority of the acreage is leased by Harry D. Deatherage and George Olbert. Deatherage leases four tracts totaling 88 acres, while Olbert leases two tracts totaling 87½ acres.

The term of the lease for the eight tracts will be for eight months beginning with March 1 of this year.

Anyone wishing to enter bids, may contact the U. S. Army Engineer District, St. Louis, Corps of Engineers, 906 Olive street, St. Louis, or telephone MA 2-5314.

Rutledge Urges Economy To Avoid City Deficit

Alderman Paul Rutledge called on city department heads at Monday night city council meeting to effect economies immediately if the general fund is to avoid going in the red or hold down fund transfers during the remaining four months of the city's fiscal year.

Rutledge, chairman of the council's Finance committee, pointed out that the city departments have been spending an average of $106,000 a month during the first eight months of the fiscal year beginning last May 1. At present, a balance of $35,924 in the general fund, as of Dec. 31, leaves the city an average of $84,000 per month for the remaining four months.

Total expenditures during December amounted to $101,292 in the general fund. The city had a balance of $63,983 in the fund at the beginning of the fiscal year. With receipts of $1,122,944, total available money in the general fund amounted to $1,186,966.

Deficits have already developed in five accounts of the general fund. The largest deficit is in the pumping station, $1351, with $3307 spent against total receipts of $2056; general government account, deficit $4887, with $62,487 spent against total receipts of $57,600; animal shelter and dog catching operation, deficit $338, with $6515 spent against total receipts of $11,387; and school crossing guards, deficit $228 with $8752 spent against total receipts of $346.

Largest balances still remaining in the general fund are those of the fire department, $69,217, and the street department, $20,295.

Tax Fund Balance

A balance of $108,462 still remains in the tax commission account. This account had total available funds of $128,436. Dis-

Thief Steals Golfer's Bag and Clubs

Robert Dubnick of Venice reported to police Monday that a golf bag and golf clubs were stolen from the Venice school athletic ground where he had been practicing.

Dubnick said he left the bag and clubs on the field while he went into the school gymnasium. He said when he returned the bag and clubs were gone.

Police were expected to question several groups of boys who had been playing on the tennis court.

Two-County Project To Aid Children

A specialized rehabilitation project for disturbed children has been launched in Madison and St. Clair county area under the auspices of the Department of Child and Family Services in cooperation with the Alton State Hospital.

The two agencies are seeking two foster homes in each of the two counties on the theory that emotionally disturbed children can function better in a family atmosphere where they are readily accepted and cared for.

Mrs. Catherine Stoekey, social work supervisor at the Family Services office in East St. Louis, said the agency "is looking for warm, understanding people to assume the responsibility of these children." The state "has provided foster homes for children for many years, but this is the first time it has attempted to place emotionally distraught children."

The participating service at Alton State Hospital is the youth center which is a special unit set aside for the rehabilitation of youthful mental patients between 6 and 17. It is staffed by several professional personnel and technicians and headed by David Cronin, coordinator.

Leaders Named for JA $500,000 Campaign

Nicholas P. Vender, president and board chairman of Granite City Steel Co., Edwin M. Clark, former president of Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., and Harold E. Thayer, president of Mallinckrodt Chemical Works, have been named division chairmen of the Junior Achievement capital fund drive.

William A. Mann, drive chairman and regional vice-president of General Electric Co., made the announcement today.

Mann said, "This is the first such drive Junior Achievement has held since it began in this area over 20 years ago."

If successful, the $500,000 drive will enable J.A. to build and equip five new business centers, pay off three mortgages and purchase a fourth center.

Third largest in the nation, Junior Achievement of Mississippi Valley includes the areas of the Quad-Cities, metropolitan St. Louis, East St. Louis and Alton.

GSI Pension Plan Tested by Former Employee in Suit

Legality of the pension plan for salaried employees at General Steel Industries was challenged in a suit filed by a former supervisor in Madison county circuit court in Edwardsville. He is Allen Eubanks, who also is seeking $100,000 damages as a result of his discharge by the industry last July 31.

According to the complaint, Eubanks was superintendent of the finishing department and was employed by General Steel for 29 years before the company closed its operations in Edwardsville, Pa., and transferred some employees to the Granite City plant.

The complaint said Eubanks was demoted on Feb. 15, 1965, with a pay cut of about 50%, and was transferred to the quality control department until mid-June when he was advised that his employment would be terminated on July 31 as a man from the Edgemoor plant was to replace him.

Disregard for Reputation

Eubanks claims he was discharged without cause and with "utter disregard for the reputation, integrity and well being of the plaintiff." The complaint charges that the company told his fellow employees that he had resigned in order to maintain harmony among plant personnel.

"By reason of the conduct of the defendant, the plaintiff was damaged in character, reputation and integrity, suffered severe financial losses and was forced to move his family from the community in which he lived since childhood and may be caused to suffer additional hardships and financial losses," it is charged in the suit.

Following the discharge, Eubanks accepted a position with the industrial engineering department of locomotive finished materials industrial division of Rockwell Manufacturing Co. at Alton, Ill., where he is still employed.

Claims Violation

The complaint states that Taylor S. DeLoe, company treasurer and secretary of the GSI retirement committee, informed Eubanks on Aug. 5 that his new employment constituted a violation of the retirement plan as amended on Jan. 1, 1960, and that his retirement rights were forfeited because he went to work for a competitor.

Eubanks denies that Rockwell is a major competitor of GSI and claims that the pension plan amendment relative to competition is void and against the public policy.

The complaint charges that the amendment constitutes a restraint of trade, deprives the plaintiff the right to seek gainful employment in a field for which he is qualified, is against public policy and materially affects the amount of compensation to which he will be entitled upon reaching retirement age.

Eubanks asks the court to enjoin and restrain the company from carrying out provisions of the amendment, that it be declared null and void and that he be reinstated under the retirement plan with full credit up to and including last July 31.

Clerks to be Hired to Begin Work on GC Sewage Bills

Authorization was given Comptroller John Doher to employ two clerks to begin preparations for mailing out sewage treatment bills in the spring.

Alderman Moerlein, chairman of the Special Pollution committee, said it would be necessary for the clerks to be hired in advance to compile a listing of all households and businesses and to work up a program for the mailing of sewage from industries.

The lists are to be compiled from records of the township tax assessor and East St. Louis & Interurban Water Co. The monthly fee for a household will be 90 cents, and there will be varying fees for industries, depending on the types and quantities of sewage to be given treatment.

Doher also is to develop an arrangement for collection at the city hall and possibly elsewhere at convenient locations.

May Have Separate Offices
The committee has discussed the possibility of requesting the Coordinated Youth Services, a United Fund Agency, to vacate its office suite on the second floor of the city hall to provide space for sewer records and collections that are now being carried out at the comptroller's office for the Nameoki sanitary Authority also was given sewer system. For insurance, to be obtained for the treatment plant before it is placed in operation on the grounds at the Granite City Army Depot.

A monthly financial report on construction of the treatment plant showed a Dec. 31 balance of $45,718, after disbursements totaling $1,114,004.

Expenditures include $918,884 for construction, $213,131 for rental of the grounds, $87,144 for engineering and inspection, $11,837 for legal costs, $612,75 for fiscal agent expense, $71,807 interest expense and $339 miscellaneous costs.

The fund income, including the $1,225,000 revenue bond issue and added interest and grants of federal tax funds, amounted to $1,568,721. Of the $455,718 balance, $180,718 is in a checking account and $275,000 in interest-bearing certificates of deposit.

Are Go Go Girls Legal? Sheriff Wants to Know

Madison county Sheriff Barney Fraundorf is seeking to determine the legality of "Go Go" girls before taking action against any taverns which feature them in unincorporated areas of the county.

Taking note that they were banned in the city of Madison by Mayor Stephen Maeras and in unincorporated areas of St. Clair county by Sheriff Maurice Joseph there, Fraundorf corresponded with both State Atty. Joseph Bartylak and Harold Landoli, county liquor commissioner, but has yet to receive a reply.

The sheriff said he was aware of four establishments in unincorporated areas of the county which have featured Go Go girls and he had reports that they progressed into nudity.

He remarked, however, that his staff is insufficient for normal law enforcement duties and that none of the deputies has the time to sit and wait for such disorderly conduct to make an arrest.

Crippled Children Benefit Dance in Venice January 29th

Plans are now complete for the annual "Crippled Children's Ball" sponsored each year in January to aid the March of Dimes campaign. The gala event will take place at 9 p.m., Saturday, Jan. 29, in the Venice-Madison American Legion Dugout, 704 Broadway, Venice.

Milton Morris, Venice March of Dimes and ball chairman, said today that tickets at 50-cents each are now available from members of the Venice Crippled Children's Organization, or may be obtained at the door the evening of the ball. A band will play for dancing, Morris said, adding that the public is cordially invited to attend.

Proceeds from the affair will be donated to the 1968 Madison County March of Dimes drive, which aids victims of polio and birth defects; provides funds for distribution of free Salk polio vaccine; assists young people to continue their studies in the field of health education; and enables a grant to be made to research at the birth defects center at St. Louis Children's Hospital.

"Mothers' Marches" are planned for Madison, Granite City, Stalling and Pontoon Beach areas on Jan. 31, under the leadership of Mrs. Leonard A. Hylla and Mrs. Charles Voloski, Madison co-chairmen, and Mrs. Lloyd C. Harris and Mrs. Weldon G. Burch, who are spearheading the marches in the remaining areas.

Daniel Linder is general chairman for the Granite City, Pontoon Beach and Stalling campaigns.

Recently, Morris visited with the 1968 Madison County "Birth Defects Poster Child," Scott Jeffrey Merry of Alton, who the Venice chairman says typifies the children being helped through the March of Dimes fund-raising drive.

The boy was born at St. Joseph's Hospital, Alton, June 29, 1957, with a open spine that was surgically closed five days after birth. Scott has since undergone six orthopedic operations. Recently, with the help of the past three years, Scott has now progressed well enough to walk with short leg braces, aided by short crutches. He has worn numerous braces and other apparatus throughout the years and has undergone considerable physical therapy.

"POSTER BOY" for the Madison County March of Dimes, Scott Jeffrey Merry of Alton, poses with Venice March of Dimes chairman, Milton Morris and Mrs. Morris. The eight-year-old boy is one of many young victims of birth defects who receive assistance through the annual fund-raising campaign.

Attends Regular Classes

The boy attends normal classroom sessions in public school, where he is considered a leader both academically and socially. Although he has no sensation or muscular control below the knees, he is an active participant in the regular physical education class at school, as well as in neighborhood activities.

Scott's general health is excellent and he is a sports enthusiast, showing particular interest in football. In addition, he enjoys reading, music and trips to his grandfather's farm.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Merry, 3502 Meredocia street, Alton. His father is a project auditor at McDonnell Aircraft Corp. Scott also has a younger brother, Kent, a typically healthy five-year-old.

Appointments of three new captains for the Granite City "Mothers' March" were announced today by Mrs. Burch and Mrs. Harris. The trio, Mrs. Harriet Hoff, Mrs. Dorothy Maer and Mrs. Wenona McQuinn, will join the ranks of 26 other women who will head neighborhood solicitations in each of the city's voting precincts.

Kiwanis See Film On Steelmaking

"Steel and America," the documentary film made by Walt Disney Productions and pre-viewed recently on a network telecast, was shown to Granite City Kiwanians at their weekly dinner meeting Monday evening in the Rose Bowl restaurant. Presenting the program was Henry Hellrich, chief power engineer for Granite City Steel Co.

Peter R. Jellen, newly installed club president, was in charge of the meeting attended by 18 members and a guest, John Sands of Mitchell.

Produced under the auspices of the U.S. Iron and Steel Institute, portions of the movie were animated, featuring the cartoon character, Donald Duck. Scenes were filmed at 11 U.S. companies and 19 separate plants, with the movie completed early last year.

Starting with animated sequences showing the first U.S. iron works, established in Saugus, Mass., and chartered in 1644, the film went on to describe the growth of the iron and steel industry. Concluding scenes showed present day production methods, including techniques involving a new basic oxygen furnace, similar to those to be installed at Granite City Steel Co.

Hellrich explained current operations at the local steel mill and gave an analysis of its expansion program and other projects stated for completion within the next two or three years. He described construction plans for the new BOF steelmaking plant, which will replace the present open hearth furnaces which completed in 1967, and also installation of the new hot strip line.

Numerous questions were answered by the company supervisor, who is a member of the firm's speaker's bureau. He said that other company personnel are available to present the film and address local service organizations.

Jellen advised club members that representatives from ten area Kiwanis groups are expected to participate in District 14's mid-winter conference and training session to be hosted by the local club Monday evening, Lt. Gov. Basil Compton of East St. Louis will be in charge of the conference, Jellen said.

ference. Both served as official delegates for the local chapter. The business session was conducted by Mrs. Doris Nelson, president. Hostess for a social hour was Mrs. Gladys Schubert, who served refreshments. The education group scheduled its next meeting for March 21, at the same school.
